WRITING PATHWAYS TO STUDENT SUCCESS
The Practice & Pedagogy series addresses the teaching, learning, and practice of writing in all its forms. From Joseph Williams’ reflections on introductions to Richard E. Young’s taxonomy of “small genres” to Adam Mackie’s considerations of technology, the books in this occasional series explore issues and ideas of interest to writers and teachers of writing.

The WAC Clearinghouse, Colorado State University Open Press, and University Press of Colorado are collaborating so that these books will be widely available through free digital distribution and low-cost print editions. The publishers and the Series editor are committed to the principle that knowledge should freely circulate. We see the opportunities that new technologies have for further democratizing knowledge. And we see that to share the power of writing is to share the means for all to articulate their needs, interest, and learning into the great experiment of literacy.

Other Books in the Series

Richard E. Young, Toward A Taxonomy of “Small” Genres and Writing Techniques for Writing Across the Curriculum (2011)
Contents

Preface .......................................................... vii

Chapter 1. Introduction. Beyond Peanut Butter and Jelly ..................... 3
  Sean Barnette

SECTION 1: WHY WE WRITE ........................................ 5

  in the Information Age .......................................... 7
  Sarah Hardison O’Connor

Chapter 3. Introductory Writing as the Gateway to Stronger
  Communities, College and Career Success .......................... 15
  Karen Bishop Morris

Chapter 4. The Value of Violence in Student Writing ..................... 25
  Lori D. Brown

Chapter 5. Embracing Diversity in Composition Courses .................. 39
  Rachel McCoppin

Chapter 6. Influence of the College Composition Classroom on Students’ Values and Beliefs ..................................... 49
  Ruth A. Goldfine and Deborah Mixson-Brookshire

SECTION 2: HOW WE WRITE ........................................ 59

Chapter 7. Introduction ............................................ 61
  Renée Love

Chapter 8. Holistic Learning for Real-Life Writers: A Call for Affective Pedagogy in First-Year Composition ...................... 65
  Rachel Anya Dearie Fomalhaut

Chapter 9. Acting the Author ...................................... 75
  Pamela Henney

Chapter 10. Free to Dance: A Somatic Approach to Teaching Writing ...... 83
  Casie Fedukovich

Chapter 11. “Who Decides My Grade?” Reflections on Team Teaching and Peer Mentoring in First-Year Composition ...................... 95
  Christopher Garland
Section 3: What We Write ......................................................... 103

Chapter 12. Introduction .......................................................... 105

Lillian E. Craton

Chapter 13. Primary Research in the Vertical Writing Curriculum ..... 109

Lynée Lewis Gaillet

Chapter 14. Composing Communities: Blogs as Learning Communities in the First-Year Composition Classroom ......................... 117

Kathryn Crowther

Lisa Whalen

Chapter 16. My Composition or Yours? What We Teach in First-Year Composition ................................................................. 137

Abigail G. Scheg

Chapter 17. Confronting the Uncomfortable: Food and First-Year Composition ................................................................. 143

Matthew Paproth

Contributors ................................................................. 151