STORIES FROM FIRST-YEAR COMPOSITION

PEDAGOGIES THAT FOSTER STUDENT AGENCY AND WRITING IDENTITY
Practices & Possibilities
Series Editors: Nick Carbone, Mike Palmquist, Aimee McClure, and Aleashia Walton
Series Associate Editor: Karen-Elizabeth Moroski

The Practices & Possibilities Series addresses the full range of practices within the field of Writing Studies, including teaching, learning, research, and theory. From Joseph Williams’ reflections on problems to Richard E. Young’s taxonomy of “small genres” to Adam Mackie’s considerations of technology, the books in this series explore issues and ideas of interest to writers, teachers, researchers, and theorists who share an interest in improving existing practices and exploring new possibilities. The series includes both original and republished books. Works in the series are organized topically.

The WAC Clearinghouse, Colorado State University Open Press, and University Press of Colorado are collaborating so that these books will be widely available through free digital distribution and low-cost print editions. The publishers and the series editors are committed to the principle that knowledge should freely circulate. We see the opportunities that new technologies have for further democratizing knowledge. And we see that to share the power of writing is to share the means for all to articulate their needs, interest, and learning into the great experiment of literacy.
