

§ Acknowledgments

The chapters in this volume result from the Writing Research Across Borders III Conference, which was held in February 2014, at the request of the International Society for the Advancement of Writing Research.

The Université Paris-Ouest Nanterre La Défense, the Université de Lorraine, and the Université Paris-Sorbonne, along with their Research Laboratories Crem (Université de Lorraine), MoDyCo (CNRS [French National Centre for Scientific Research], Université Paris-Ouest Nanterre La Défense), and STIH (Université Paris-Sorbonne) spent considerable time and effort in the organization of this conference. This project also received support from the ESPE of the Académie de Paris, the EMA Laboratory (Université de Cergy-Pontoise), the ILF (French National Centre for Scientific Research) of the École Doctorale “Langage et Concepts” (Language and Concepts Doctorate School) of the Université Paris-Sorbonne, of the laboratory ITEM (ENS, CNRS) from the CIRCEFT Laboratory (Université Paris 8 – UPEC) along with the various establishments on which they depend.

These institutions and their personnel are to be thanked for their support both for the conference and for this book.

We are especially grateful to the translators who have made it possible to present this collection in English:

- Corinna Anderson (Chapter 29)
- Paul Anderson (Chapter 22)
- Bridget Behrmann (Chapters 6 and 17)
- Kristin Cooper (Chapter 11)
- Richard Dickinson & Jean-François Nomine (Chapter 27)
- Jeffrey Freedman (Chapter 4)
- Claudine Garcia-Debanc and Myriam Bras, who translated their own chapter (2)
- Bernard Myers (Introduction)
- Agnès Pernet-Liu, who translated her own chapter (16) and Christiane Donahue, who reviewed the translation
- Rachael Renié-Phillips (Chapter 24)
- Sarah Riviere (Chapter 19)
- Helen Robertshaw (Chapter 20)
- Elizabeth Rowley-Jolivet (Chapter 14)
- Angela Swaine Verdier and Sarah Verdier Leyshon (Chapter 8)

We also wish to thank the International Scientific Committee which selected the articles published here and Sarah de Vogüé without whom this project would not have been such a success.
